Home Agent's Notes

By Mrs. B. G. Anderson

For easy entertaining you just can't beat a buffet supper. This month of February during which we celebrate Valentine's Day, and Washington's Birthday, etc., is a good time for entertaining. The guests do part of the work for you —and love it. Since they serve themselves, they mix and mingle more than when seated at a dinner table. Conversation seems to flow freely and the party gets off to a livlier start. Whether your guest list is short or long, a buffet supper is bound to be informal and fun.

Either a center or side table can be used for serving. If you use your dining table in the middle of the room, you can serve from all four sides. However, you may want to push table against the wall to give more space for guests to circulate, stand, or sit down.

With a side table or sideboard, a tall arrangement of flowers or fruit next to the wall is appropriate. The food, plates, flatware, and napkins can be arranged around the other three sides of the table. There are no strict rules about setting a buffet table. Let convenience and good looks be your keynote. Place the various dishes so that guests can serve themselves easily as they proceed around the table or work along beside it.

One logical arrangement is to have a stack of plates and the main dish first in line, then vegetables and or salad, then forks and napkins. The last two can be picked up more conveniently by the guest after he serves his plate. Later, he can come back for coffee or other beverages. You may also want a second and smaller side table for extras such as water pitcher and glasses, bread, butter, pickle or relish.

The current popularity of the chafing dish is a boon to the buffet supper hostess. Such dishes, equipped with alcohol or canned heat burners, will keep heat hot throughout the serving period. Candle warmers, sold in many stores now, can be used for the same purpose.

After your guest is served, where will he sit? If he takes his plate to the living room, try to have a small table handy near each chair. Even if he holds his plate on his knee, he is sure to want a nearby spot for his coffee cup or water glass. A nest of tables, or a set of small folding tables is grand to have for buffet suppers.

If you feel that people are more comfortabe seated at tables of regulation height, way not use card tables and straight chairs? Set each card table with flatware, napkins, and glasses for four in advance. Have serving plates and food on the buffet. Let guests serve themselves, then carry their plates to the tables.

Now, what about dessert? There are several ways in which you can serve this. One is to clear the buffet, then place the dessert there so the guests can serve themselves. Another idea is to pass a tray of individual desserts to the guests. Collect plates used for the main course before you start your rounds with the dessert.

Yes, a buffet supper is an easy and attractive way to entertain. It's one of the best ways to serve a large crowd in a limited space. And it's simple and pleasant when you're just having a neighbor of two in to watch television for the evening.

WHEN IT RAINS, IT POURS

Denver, Co.- Mrs. Nita Burge, 56, had driven cars without an accident for forty years, until two months ago, when she was involved in her first crash. Since that time, she has had two other crashes. After the last one, in which a male motorist ran a red light and crashed into the right fender of her car, Mrs. Burge painted a big black sign across the damaged fender: "A man id this. She explained that she got tired of people looking at the dent and laughing. "I could just see the thinking 'woman driver,' so I decided to do something about it," she said.

Young Adult Farmers Meet

The Pamplin Adult Farmers Evening Class will start tonight. The first meeting will be held in the Pamplin School building tonight at 7:30 o'clock. J. N. Jennings, the County ACP office manager, and John Hudson, mathematics and science teacher at Appomattox High School, and ACP Surveyor during the summer, will be present to lead a discussion on "Land Surveying."

The Pamplin Adult Farmers Evening Class is co-sponsored by the Pamplin Ruritan Club and the County Vocational Agriculture Department. The Ruritan Club's agricultural advisory committee recently met to make plans for the evening class. This committee consists of Cecil Ligon, Eugene Sears, Luther Nash, James Rosser, and Earl Smith. A series of ten classes is planned. Topics and discussion leaders for the first six classes have been set up as follows:

February 7: Land Surveying, by J. N. Jennings and John Hudson
February 14: Keeping Farm Records, by W. L. Motley
February 21: Study of Lime and its Farm Use, by H. B. Pack
February 28: Maintaining Soil Fertility, by W. L. Motley
March 7: Controlling Alfalfa Insects, by James A. Smith, County Agricultural Agent
March 14: Controlling Brucellosis (Bang's Disease) by H. B. Pack.

Other class topics and discussion leaders are to be chosen by members at tonight's meeting.

Last year twenty-eight members were enrolled in this class. Attendance was good and many good discussions were held. These classes are planned to try to bring some of the latest ideas and methods to the attention of farmers in the community. All local farmers are invited to enroll and attend.

Sarah Anne's COOKING CLASS

When buying less expensive cuts of meat you sacrifice nothing, as many of the cheaper cuts have more flavor and juiciness. However, you should always insist on high quality branded beef which has the packer's brand name as well as the government stamp of quality.

Pot Roast With Vegetables

3 1-4 lbs. chuck or bottom round beef
1 tablespoon melted fat
4 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
2 cups boiling water
2 large onions peeled
2 seeded green peppers
2 cups canned tomatoes
6 medium carrots
6 medium potatoes
1 cup diced celery

Sear the meat on all sides in the melted fat in a skillet. Then place in a large covered kettle. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons of the fat left in the skillet. Add flour, salt and pepper and stir until smooth. Add the water gradually, stirring constantly. Cut the onions in quarters, cut the pepper into strips, pare the carrots and potatoes. Arrange with the celery and tomatoes around the meat. Pour the thickened liquid over all. Cover and bake in an oven 425 degrees for 2½ hours.

Spicy Frankfurters

1 lb. frankfurters
2 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons water
1 cup water
3-4 cup catsup
3 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon prepared mustard.

Cut frankfurters in half lengthwise. Place in a deep covered skillet. Combine the flour with the 3 tablespoons of water, add remaining ingredients and pour this sauce over the frankfurters.

Cover and bring to the boiling point, then turn heat very low and simmer for 20 minutes. Serve with the sauce over them.

Camelon of Beef

2 lbs. round steak
3 tablespoons bread crumgs
Grated rind of half a lemon
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 small onion chopped
2 tablespoons melted margarine
1 egg
Salt
Pepper

Chop the meat finely or run it through a meat chopper. Add the bread crumbs, lemon rind, onion, parsley, margarine, seasonings and beaten egg. Mix well and form into a long roll. Lay on a greased tin and cover with greased paper. Bake 3-4 hour in an oven 350 degrees, basting every ten minutes with a little melted margarine or drippings.

Grilled Hamburgers

2 lbs. bottom round of beef, ground twice
2 ½ teaspoons salt
Pepper
2 eggs
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
2 teaspoons bottled condiment sauce

Combine all ingredients and mix together until well blended. Shape into 8 patties. Cook in a skillet until done turning once. Serve on toasted hamburger buns.

Chuck Pot Roast

4 lb. chuck roast, boned and tied
2 tablespoons shortening
1½ tablespoons salt
Pepper
1 medium onion sliced
1-2 cup diced carrots
1-2 cup celery
1 cup water
2 bay leaves

Use a heavy cast iron or aluminum kettle for cooking roast. Place the shortening in the kettle and heat until melted. Wipe off the meat with a damp cloth and rub the entire surface with the flour mixed with salt and pepper. Place the roast in the kettle and brown on all sides in the melted shortening. Add vegetables, water and bay leaves. Cover and cook over low heat for about 3 hours or until meat is tender. Turn once or twice during the cooking.

Stuffed Breast of Veal

1-2 to 3 lb. breast of veal
3 cups bread stuffing
4 or 5 strips of salt pork
1 cup water

Stuff veal with stuffing and close opening by sewing or by inserting toothpicks. Place a wire rack in an uncovered roaster. Lay salt pork strips over top. Add the cold water and roast in an oven 325 degrees, allowing 35 minutes per pound. Make gravy from drippings in pan.
